Volume 63

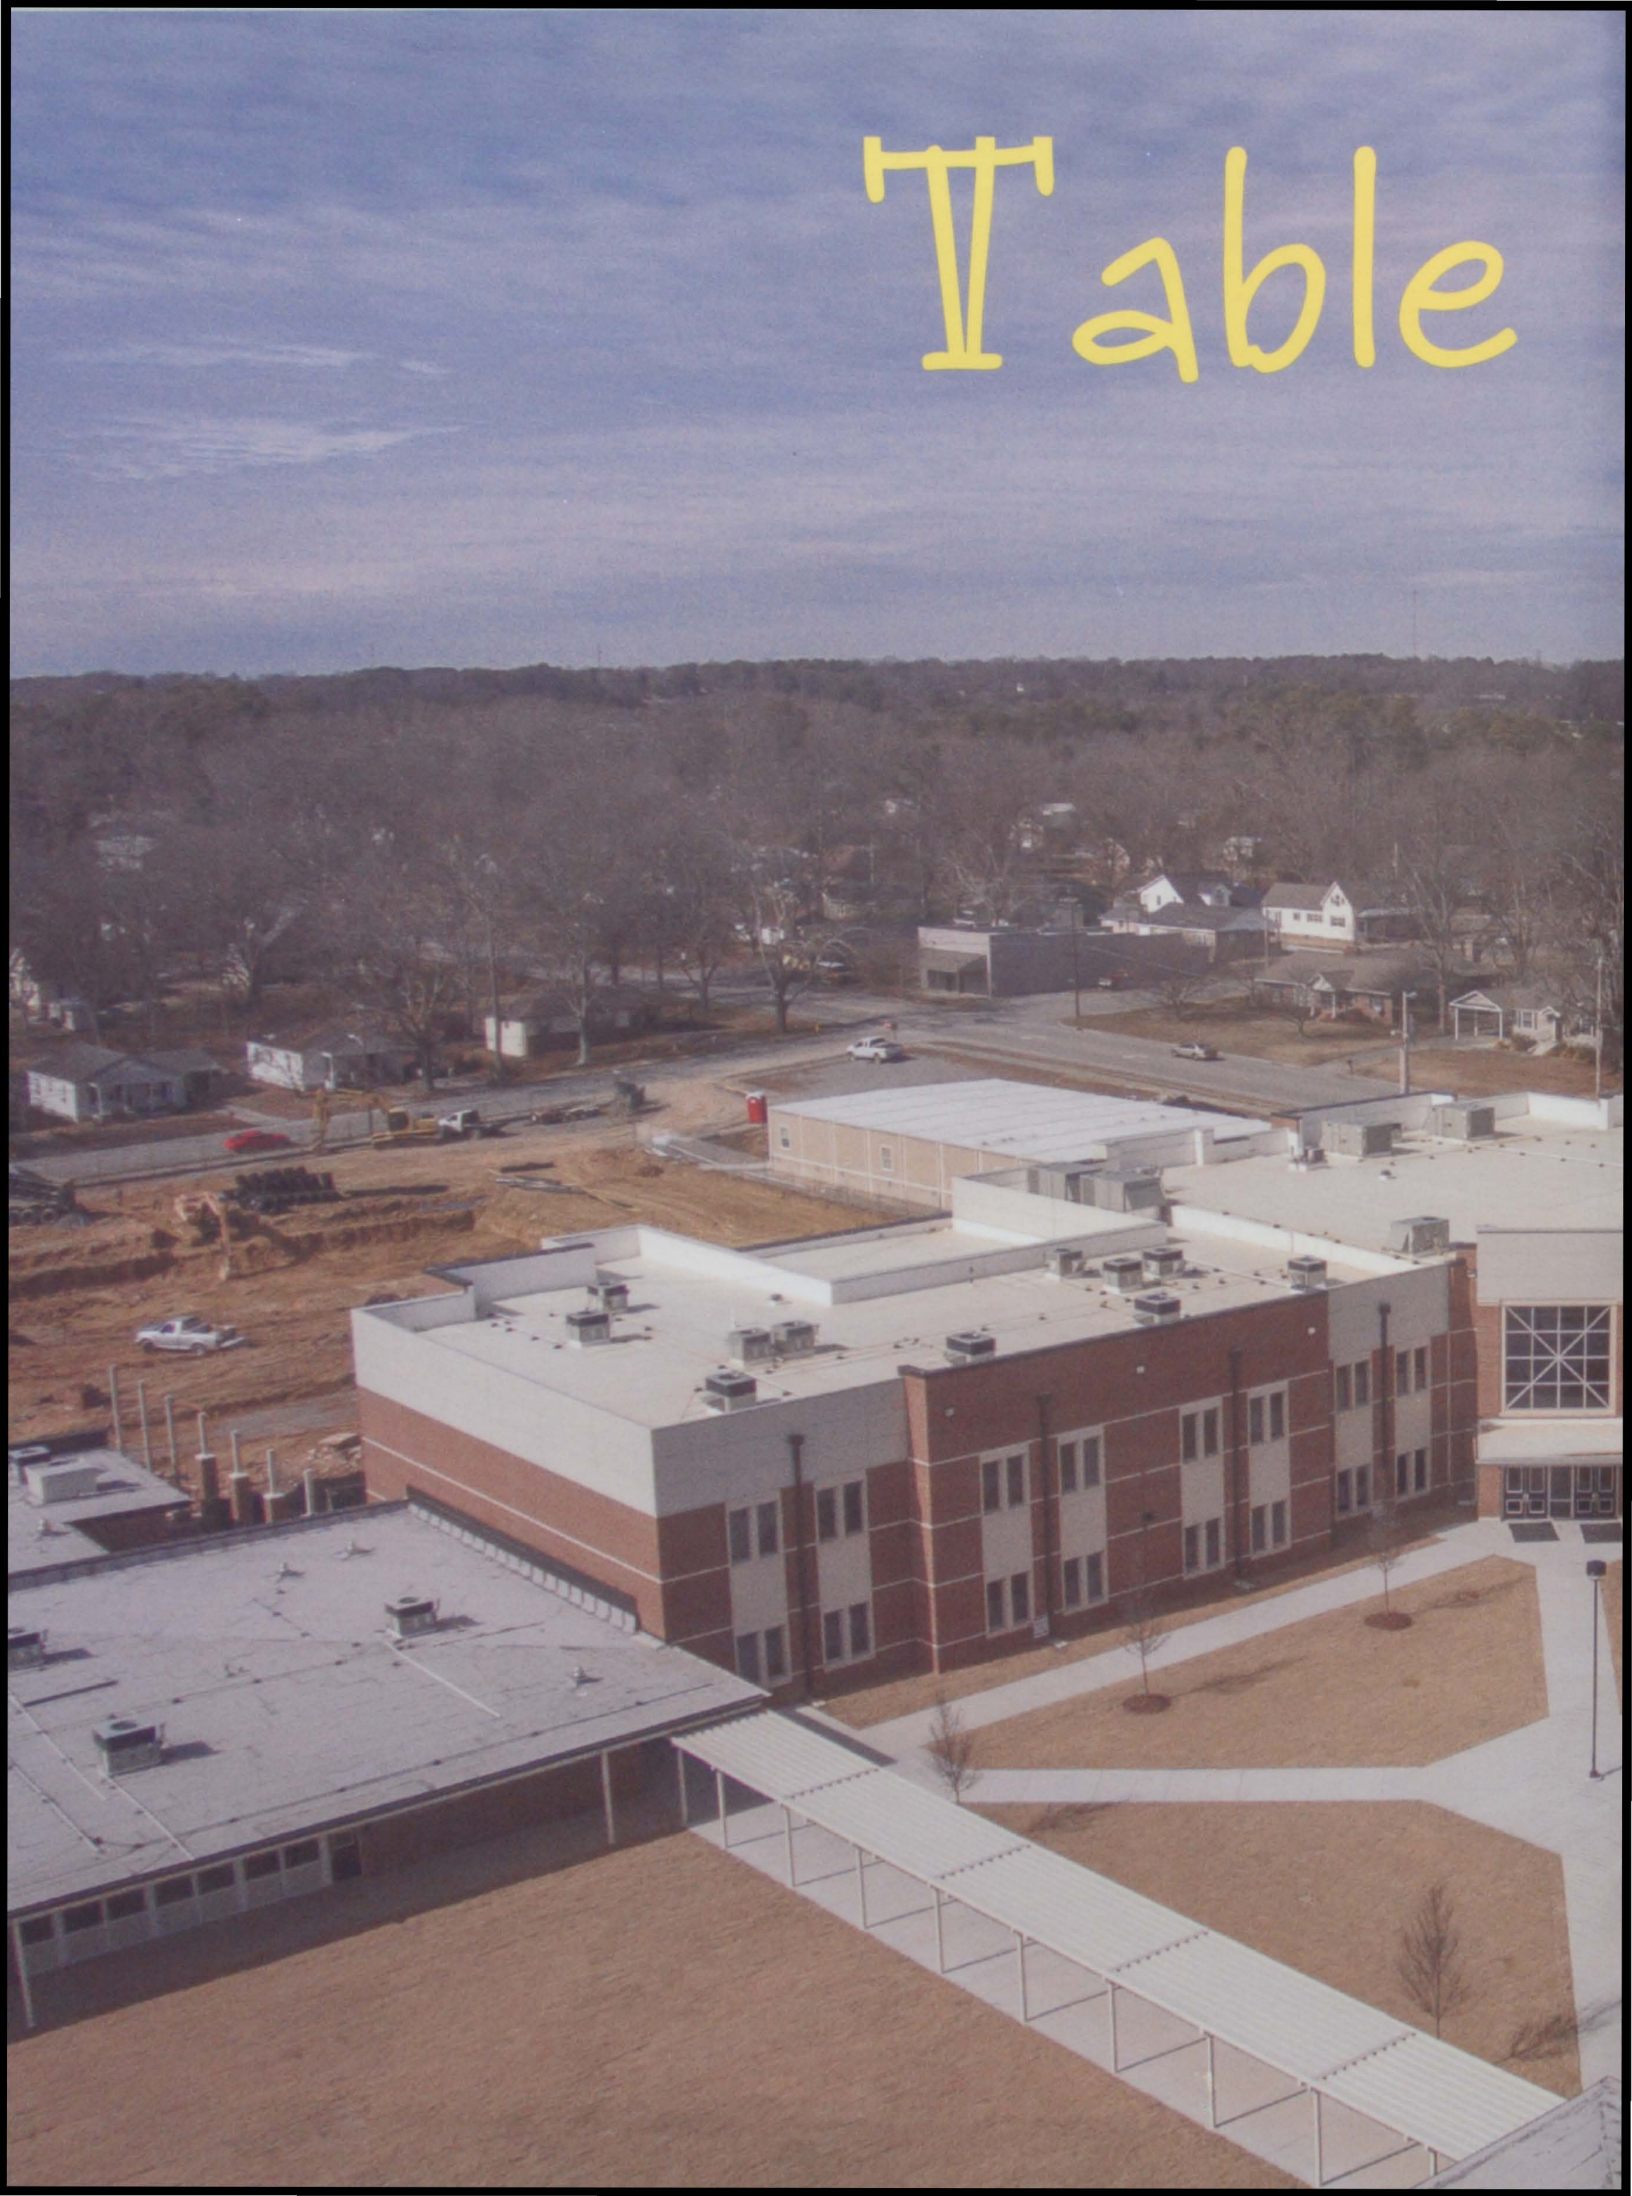

An aerial photograph of the Cullman High School campus. The image shows a large parking lot filled with cars, several school buildings with corrugated metal roofs, and a baseball field with bleachers in the background. A semi-transparent grey box is centered over the image, containing text. A yellow decorative arrow points from the top right towards the text, and a blue decorative arrow points from the bottom left towards the text.

The proud traditions built by generations of Cullman High School graduates have been in existence for more than a century. For more than half of that time, students have graced the halls of our alma mater on the city's northern border in the current location. Our iconic buildings served us well and were respectfully laid to rest as a new era in school history begins. The refurbishing and re-creation of our facilities have been years in the making and are now completed at long last. However, it is not the windows, walls, paint, and mortar that make up this unique institution. It is the people that stroll the sidewalks, fill the desks, play on the fields and courts, create themselves on the stage, grace the classrooms, and take pride in their school that make this place exceptional. As we embark on this innovative inauguration, new goals will be reached and different faces will continue to replace those that will never be forgotten. However, it is with the same uncompromising determination that we boldly step into a new era--building on the past to define what lies ahead in our future.

Game Plans

Baylee Johnson

First, the basketball team meets at Guthrie's for a pre-game meal to fuel their energy for the big game. Later, the team lays in the locker room floor and listens to Taylor Swift. Lastly, the whole team gathers together and says a prayer.

Maison Goodwin

The baseball team gets up their hair and blasts 2 Chainz over the speakers to get pumped for the game. To warm up, they have pre-game soccer matches on the baseball balcony while listening to "In the Air Tonight."

Sam Calligaris

First, he always eats a pre-game meal of Subway and Snickers. Then, he listens to music in order to get his "groove on." He always makes sure to re-lace his cleats and tape his wrists before any game.

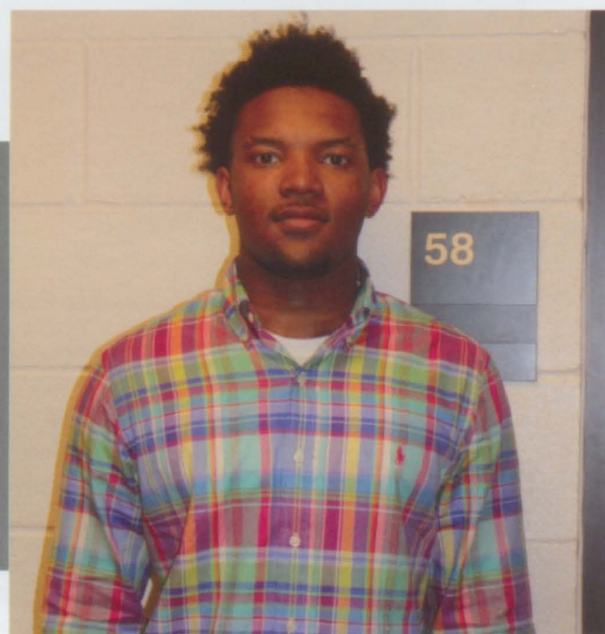

Sally Ann and Shelbi

The cheerleaders' pre-game rituals consist of saying The Lord's Prayer together and breaking down on "Home." They all touch the same wall and make sure to NEVER let a pole or door split them when they are walking together.

Brontae Harris

He has a specific and carefully prepared playlist to get pumped for the game. He always makes sure to pray and that his socks are put on before any other part of the uniform.

An Era Ends

Sixty-one years. Six decades. Five hundred and thirty four thousand seven hundred and fifteen hours. From the first student to roam the halls of A and B Building to the last, she stood tall and served her purpose. An era has come to an end with the departure of the two buildings, but the memories, classes, and accomplishments she held will never be forgotten. Here's to the next sixty one years.

Youth Leadership

The Youth Leadership Program is a group of 11th grade students chosen from each of the secondary schools in Cullman County. Will Raney and Jessi Canaday were chosen to represent CHS in this prestigious group. They had the opportunity to meet with other representatives two times each month, volunteer with different organizations, and attend seminars.

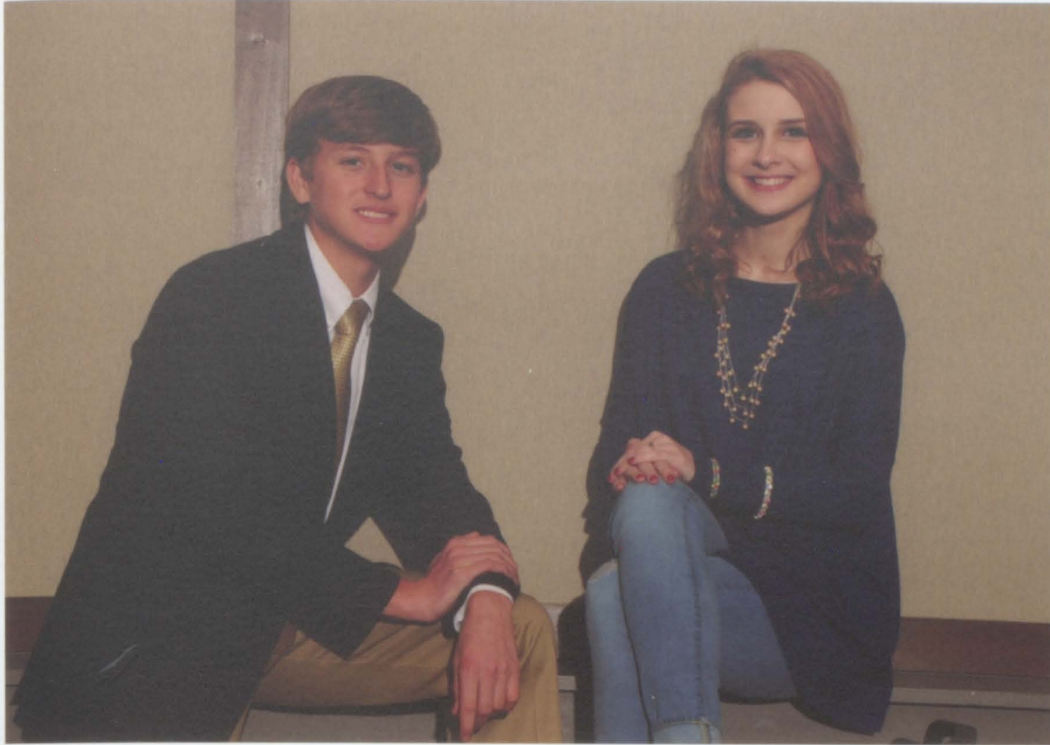

DAR Good Citizen

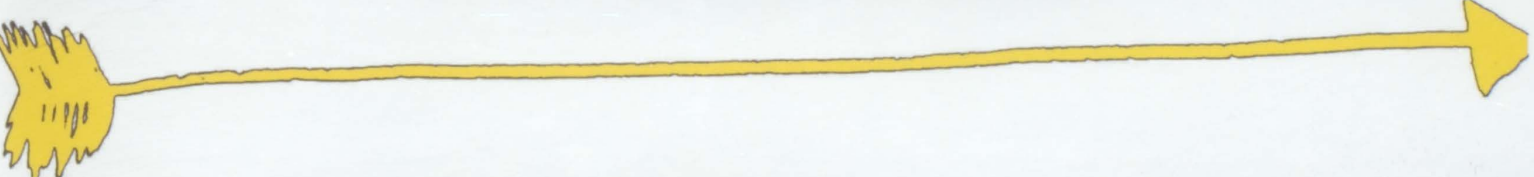

Ben Ratliff was chosen by the faculty as this year's DAR Good Citizen recipient. This honor reflects Ben's ability to consistently exemplify leadership, service, and dependability.

Zachary Bell and Brooke Ledbetter were this year's award recipients of the HOBY program. Both were chosen to represent CHS at this prestigious state leadership seminar.

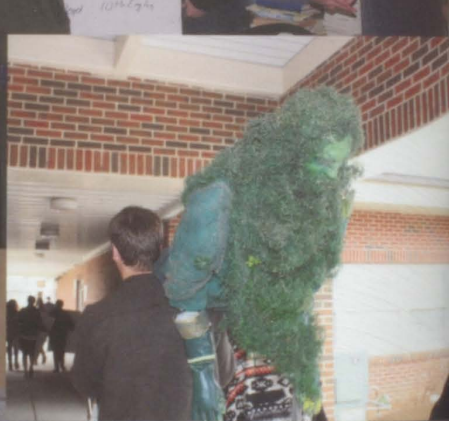

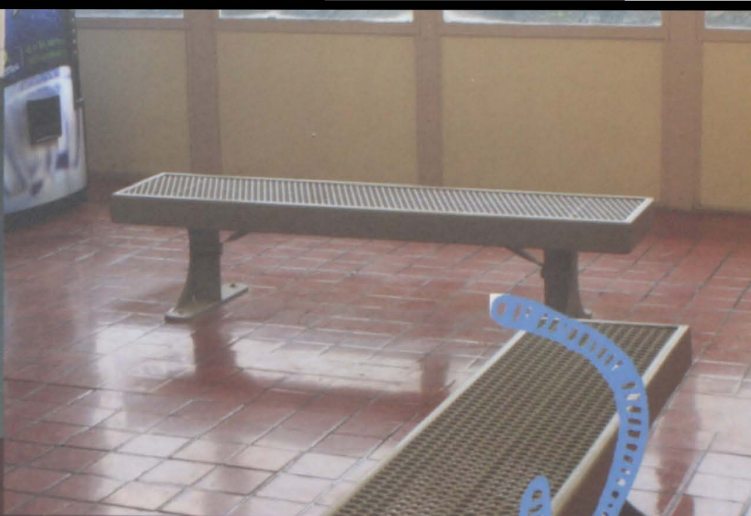

Boys and Girls State

Josie Boyd and Seth Donaldson represented CHS at the Alabama Boys and Girls State which is sponsored by the American Legion. As part of this summer program, Josie and Seth learned how government works while developing leadership skills and an appreciation for our rights as citizens. They participated in all phases of a working government (running for office, practicing public speaking, and creating mock laws).

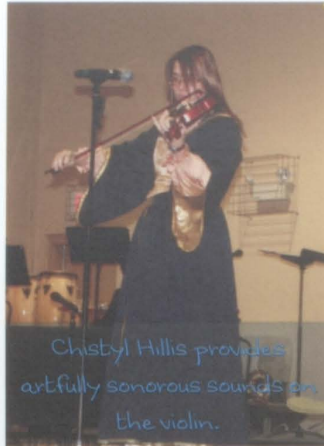

Time for a Change

The Last Pilgrimage...

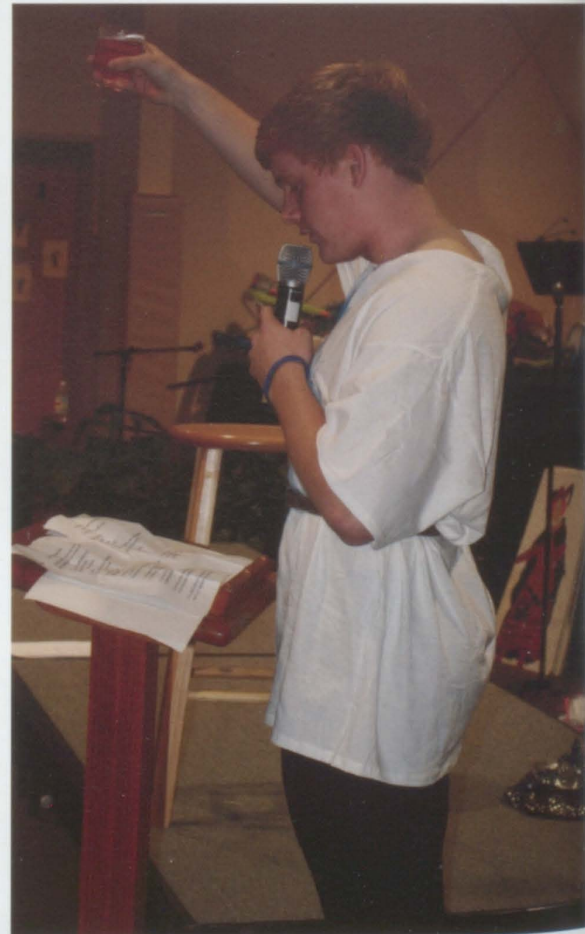

Chistyl Hillis provides artfully sonorous sounds on the violin.

Due to a well-earned retirement, this year marked the last time that senior English teacher Ms. Allred would host the traditional CHS Pilgrimage, where students made food and performed literary skits from Geoffrey Chaucer's the Canterbury Tales.

Right: Kurt Lindsey makes a popular dish from medieval English times

In Memory Of...

Stephen Freeman

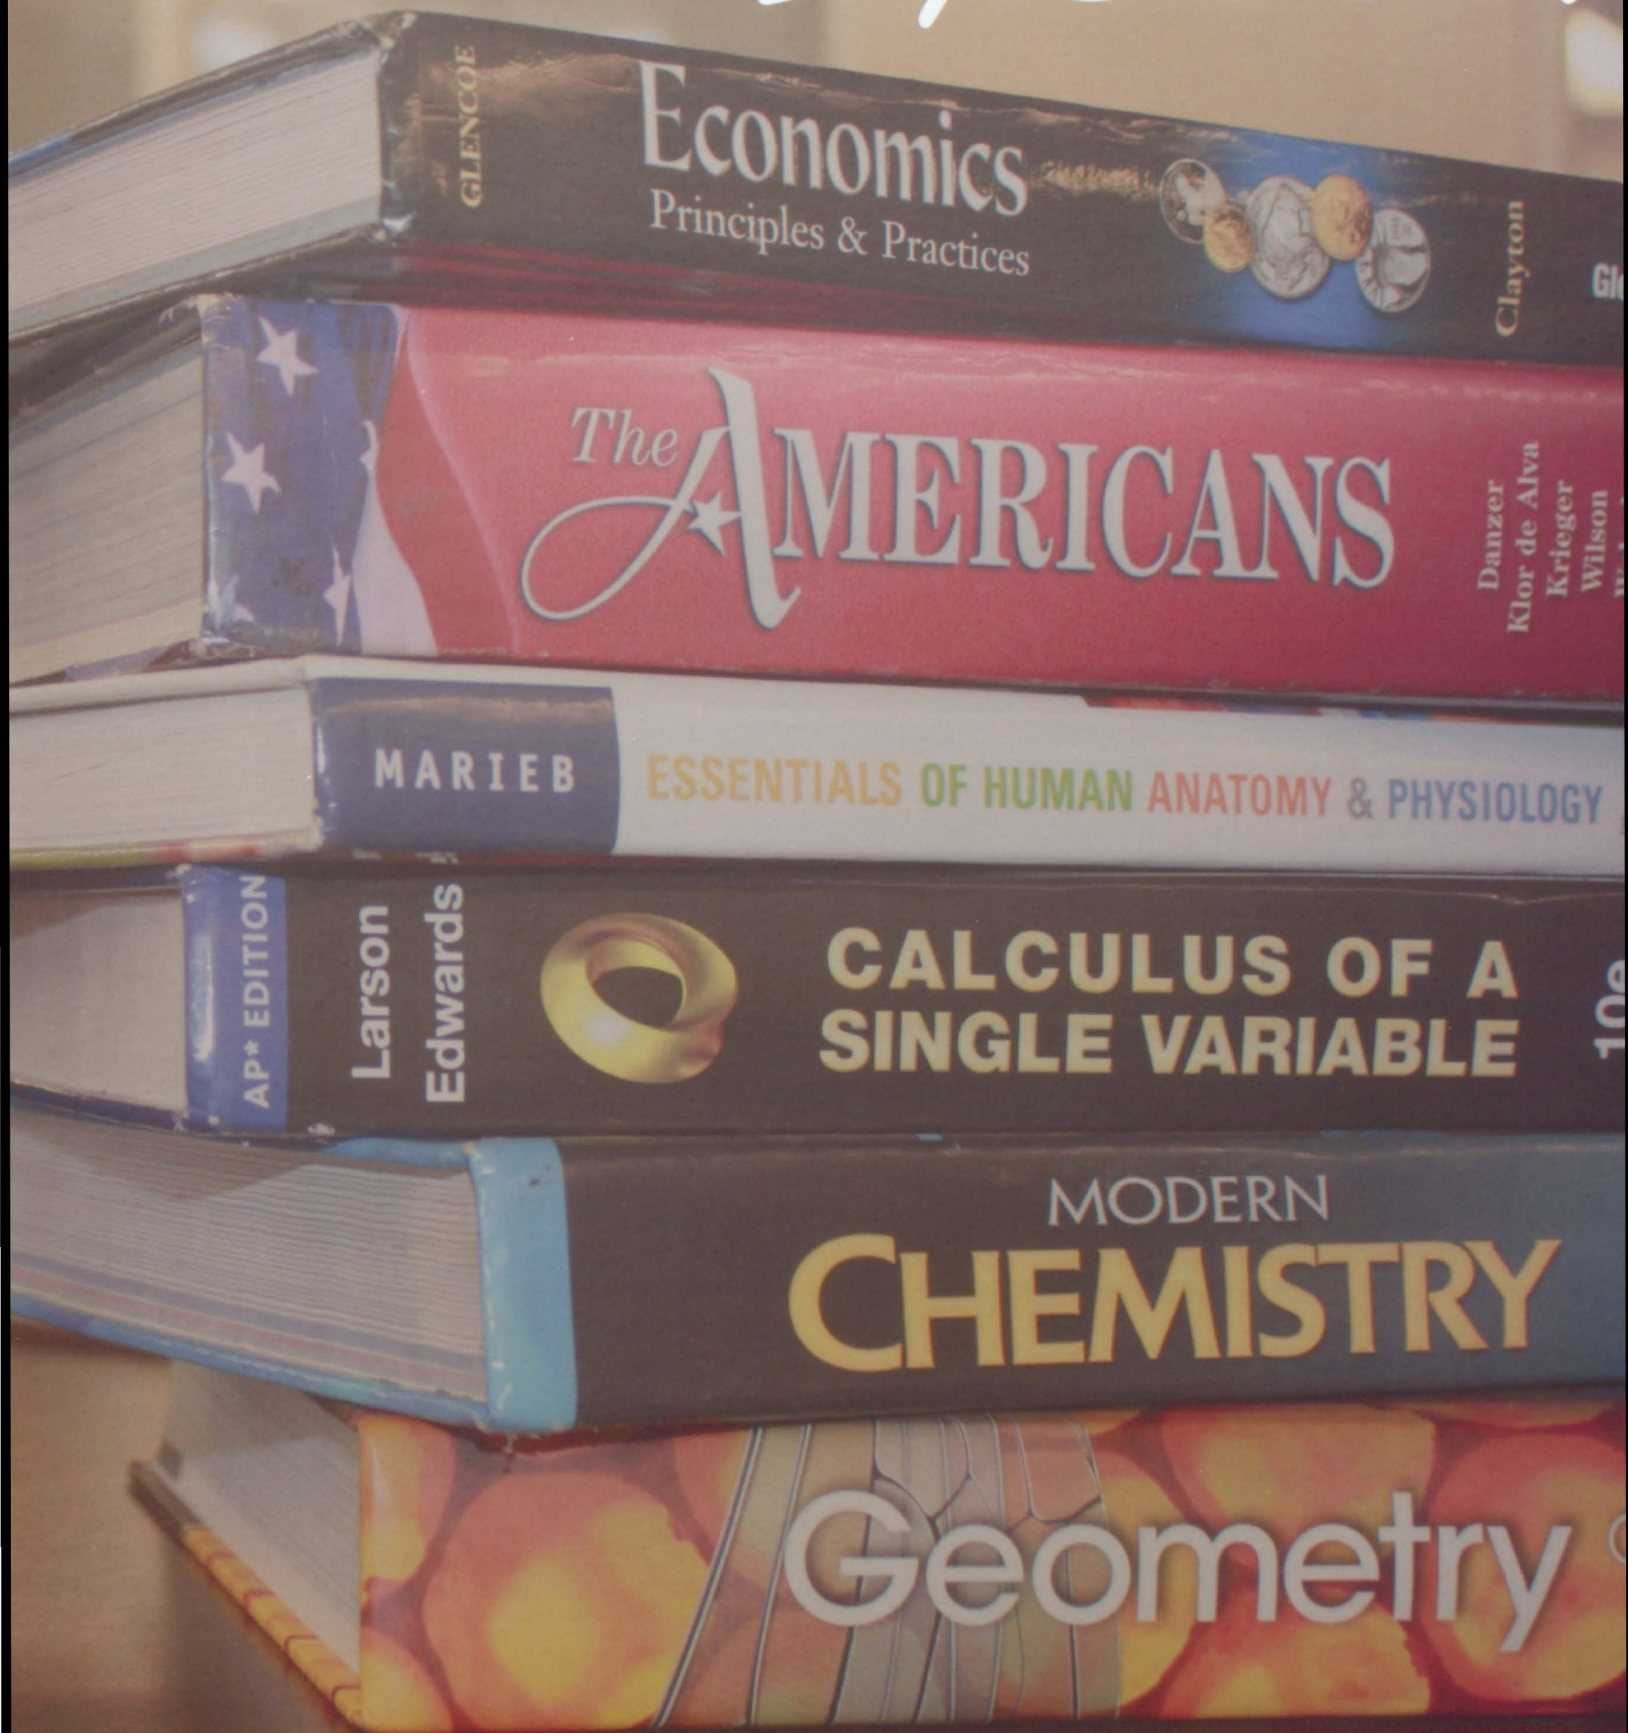

To those who knew him, Stephen was a kind and gentle spirit who had a very thoughtful personality and a great sense of humor. His teachers remember him as being a very polite and conscientious student, with an infectious laugh and an enormous love for Alabama Football. The senior class of 2015, along with the entire CHS student body, will miss his school spirit and his big heart for many years to come.

Drama

The drama program, run by the husband and wife team Wayne and Robin Cook, had two extraordinary productions in the lineup this school year. Their first of the two occurred in December and was called, The Christmas Spectacular, which compiled four popular Christmas tales into one event. These included: A Christmas Carol, The True Story of Kris Kringle, How the Grinch Stole Christmas, and Charlie Brown. The drama team is diligently readying the spring production, The Wiz. "The Wiz" is a reproduction of the 1970's version that featured Michael Jackson. Filled with funky music the 70's era is renown for, the show boasts a highly talented double-cast and a debut in the newly renovated and state-of-the-art auditorium and theater.

Taylor Murphree and Kelsey Styles prepare costumes for The Wiz.

Cast Members take a bow after a well-played performance.

Harper Canaday and Zack Jackson showcase some elaborate costumes.

Five of our drama students qualified this year for the State Thespian Competition, held at Samford University. Individual qualifiers included: Sara Nava, Hannah Stringer, Drew Fillingner, Robert Henshaw, and Duncan Warner. Sarah Nava competed for pantomime and female monologue, winning the pantomime competition. Hannah Stringer competed in the female musical category. Finally, Duncan Warner, Robert Henshaw, and Drew Fillingner contended for the male monologue award. Sophomore, Drew Fillingner, won this category with two impressive perfect scores. Needless to say, our drama program is astoundingly talented!

Choir

The CHS Coral department is made up of Chamber Choir and Women's Choir. Chamber Choir is an audition-only group that is made up of mostly upperclassmen and consists of young men and women. Chamber Choir performs often as the face of the choral department. The Women's choir is made up of mostly underclassmen; these girls are training their voices in preparation for a spot in the Chamber Choir one day. This year the choral department traveled to Disney World to compete in a national competition.

Mrs. Arnold teaches four different art classes. Art I and II, Art III, Digital Photography, and Advanced Digital Photography. Mrs. Arnold loves her new space in the new fine arts building. She loves that there is plenty of space to display artwork and plenty of good lighting. Her new desks are great for drawing from observation and flat work. Her classroom is divided into two separate halves leaving the other room perfect for ceramics and sculpting now that they also have a storage room to keep the sculptures in. Mrs. Arnold also enjoys her patio space connected to her classrooms.

The ALS Ice Bucket Challenge started circulating through social media in the beginning of the 2014-2015 school year. The challenge raised $115 million dollars for the ALS Association and raised much awareness for the disease. ALS stands for amyotrophic lateral sclerosis and is also known as "Lou Gehrig's Disease." The disease effects nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord and can also result in death once the nervous system's motor neurons have fully degenerated. The disease causes paralysis and muscle weakness among many other symptoms. There is no known cure for ALS and only one approved medication to treat it. Many Cullman High School students and faculty partook in the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge and shared their pictures and videos to Instagram and Twitter using #chsals.

A tedious job it may be, but creating a yearbook is a rewarding effort without a doubt. Staff members spend hours upon hours perfecting each spread, tallying school elections, and organizing all this information by a specific deadline. Though the work can be taxing, it is all worth it to see the end product that we present to you. We hope this year's is one for the "books"!

The Cullman County Fair is the biggest project the Leo Club participates in. The students help the Lion's Club by collecting tickets and working in the Lion Club's concession stand. The fair also includes the Cullman County Fair Queen Pageant where one young woman is chosen from each school in the district to compete for the title of Fair Queen. This year's Cullman County Fair Queen was none other than Cullman High's own Josie Oliver.

Various Leo Club members strengthened their community service skills while building relationships with their peers and serving through volunteer opportunities such as selling concessions at the fair and selling candy at one of the home football games.

Distinguished Young Women

Oakleigh White

Oakleigh's experience in her own words: "Distinguished Young Women is a national scholarship program for high school girls. It focuses on the qualities of scholarship, leadership, and talent. It was formerly known as Junior Miss until 2010 when the program was renamed Distinguished Young Women to emphasize that it was not a pageant, but a scholarship program. I competed on the local level in June of 2014 for scholarship money and the opportunity to represent Cullman County on the state level. State week was by far one of the most memorable weeks of my life. A week with no connection to the outside world and staying with a new family you have only met once may seem like it would be difficult, but in all actuality, it's a blast. I met 50 new girls just like myself and made friendships that will last a lifetime. Not only did I get to compete at state, I also had the opportunity to speak at various events and at West Elementary School about the Be Your Best Self Program. This program encourages individuals to live life in a way that you are always striving to be the best that you can be. It focuses on the elements of living a healthy, involved, studious, ambitious, and involved lifestyle. The Distinguished Young Women program has taught me a lot about myself as well as the importance of always striving to be the best Oakleigh I can be. I am so thankful to the Distinguished Young Women Program for all it has taught me and for everything it stands for."

Juniors recite the National Honor Society pledge during their induction.

NHS President Molly McLeroy gives a speech on Scholarship.

The reception for the NHS members and their families following the induction.

I am so excited to be working with the National Honor Society; I am a believer in the four pillars on which it is based--- Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. Members worked this year in service through student tutoring, hosting the annual college night, candy collection for Halloween at a local nursing home, assisting teachers in moving into the new facility, supply collection for the Humane Society, and Relay for Life. Membership in NHS distinguishes students who have committed themselves to the pursuit of academic excellence, community improvement, and personal development.

Varsity Girls Basketball

The Girls' Basketball team saw the return of 4 seniors and 3 starters from the 2014 season. The Varsity girls team also saw the rise of several young athletes making their varsity debut in the first year of 6A competition. The Lady Bearcats ended the Hartselle Tigers' hopes for advancement in state playoffs and an 8 game win streak at the Area 15 tournament. This win over Hartselle marked our ladies' 5th year in a row to advance to state playoffs. The lady cats finished runner up to the #2 team in 6A in the state, the Austin Black Bears.

They fell just short losing by 5 to Jackson Olin in the Sub-Regional round.

Other highlights of the 2014-2015 year: the Lady Cats beat the #3 ranked 3A team Winfield, finished runner up to the #9 ranked in 6A Athens Golden Eagles in the Mitch Smith Christmas Invitational, and finished runner up in the Cordova Tip-Off tournament. Baylee Johnson set the CHS career scoring mark for women at 1,701 points and is second on the ALL TIME SCORING LIST behind fellow Senior Lawson Schaffer. Baylee also set the single game record for 3 pointers made in a game with 9 vs the #10 ranked Arab Knights.

Baylee Johnson

Senior Baylee Johnson became the all time scoring leader for the Lady Bearcat basketball program this season when she surpassed the previous record of 1,356 points. Baylee has been the leader of the basketball team her entire high school career and has accumulated many notable awards and recognition in both school and travel ball.

Seth Swalve

Seth Swalve reached the 1,000 point mark this season at Hartselle, adding him to the grand list with two more starters, Brontae Harris and Lawson Schaffer. Reaching this milestone as a junior, Seth is sure to break down even more barriers as he leads the team as a senior next year.

Brontae Harris

This has been a wildly successful first, and last, year at Cullman for Senior Brontae Harris. Not only did he reach the 2,000 point achievement in his career this season, but he also became the Cullman County scoring leader! Breaking the record of an unreal 2,252 points has set a new high for Cullman County that will not likely be passed soon.

Lawson Schaffer

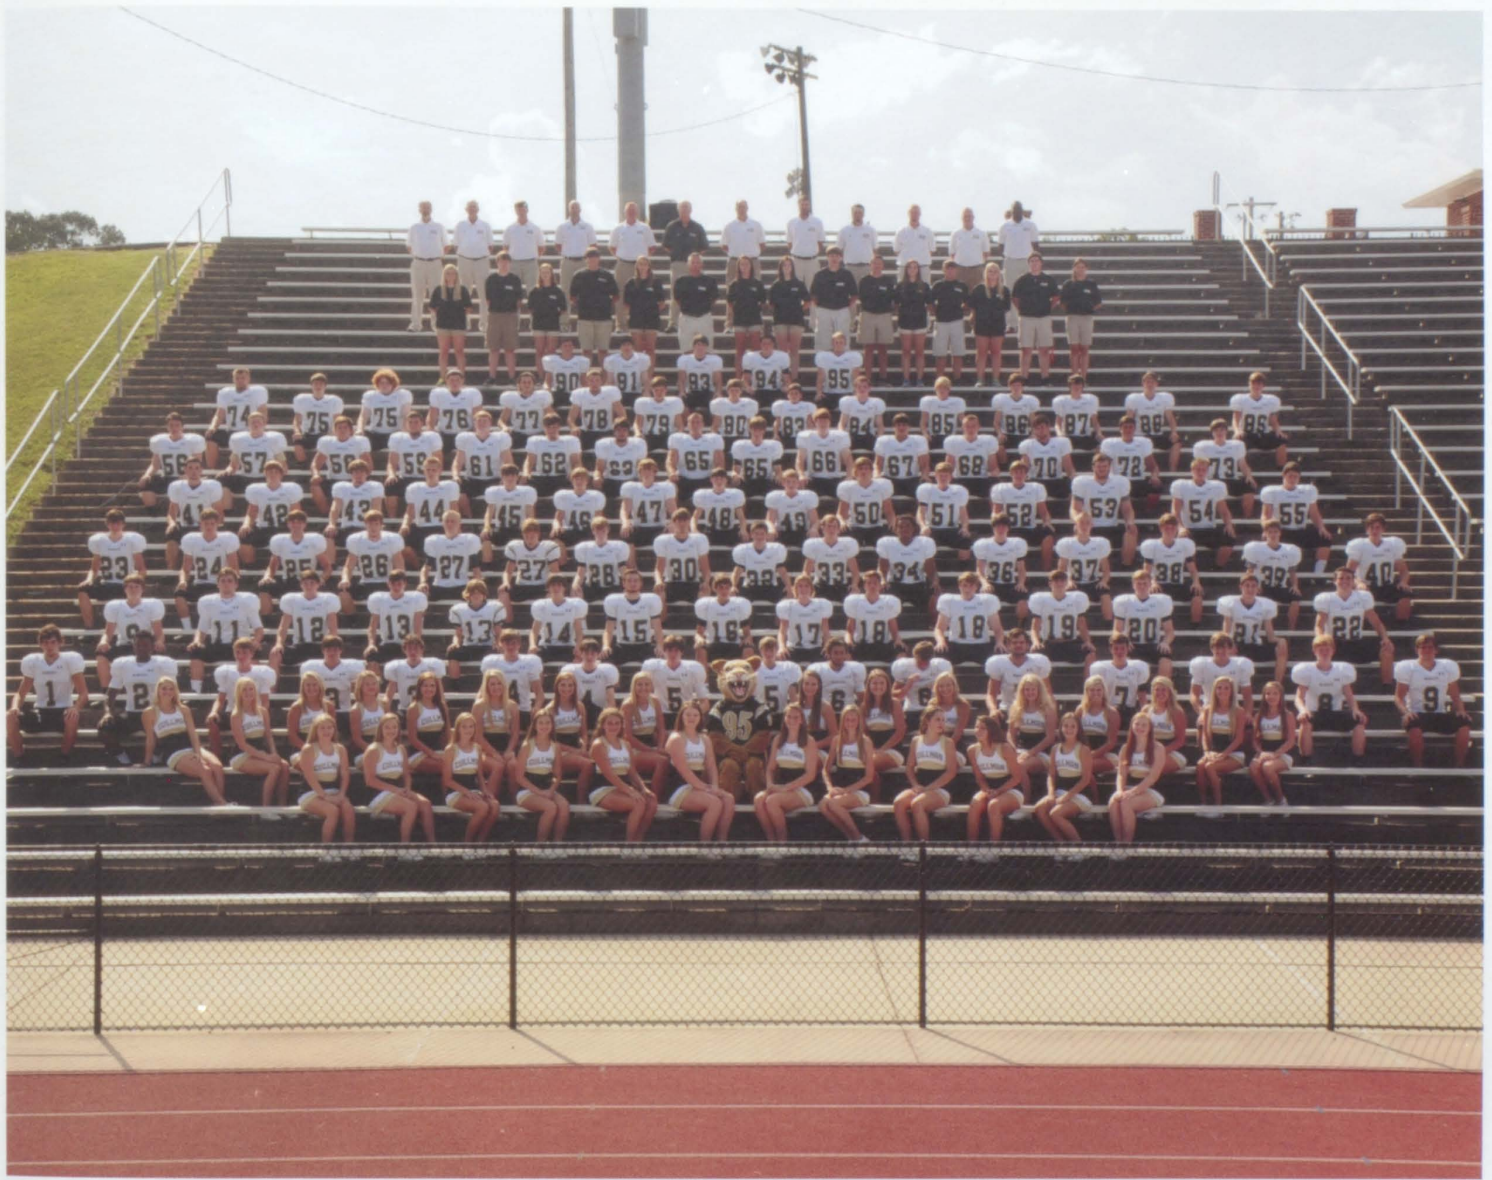

Lawson Schaffer has had a masterful career in the basketball program, and he has the awards to back it up. His senior year certainly brought his most significant achievement yet.

Early in the season Lawson became the leading scorer for men's basketball in Cullman High School history. Against Hartselle this year, he overtook the previous record of 1,342 and has been extending his unprecedented feat with a more than impressive year stat-wise.

Student Section

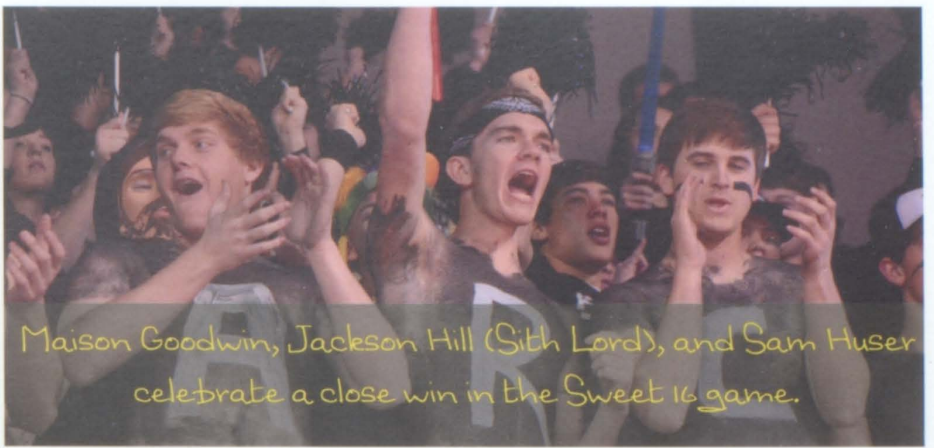

The Cullman High School student section takes pride in being the loudest fans in the gym. The student section is captivated during the game and dresses in themes (frat night, neon, America, black out, etc.). We jump for joy when our Cats win and hang our heads in defeat when we (rarely) lose. We try our hardest to help the team out however we can, whether it's jumping and shouting to encourage our Cats or taking on the opposing team in a light saber war at half-time. The student section has become an integral part of school sporting life and continues to grow and thrive.

The student section gets fired up before a black out themed game.

Back-to-back Area Championships deserves everyone celebrating the big win.

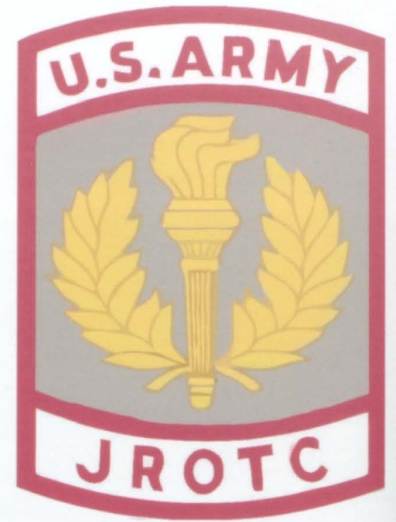

When the game is on, nothing else matters.

JROTC

The JROTC, Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, is a program offered to Cullman High School students to help boost character and citizenship. To many people's misconceptions, being a part of the JROTC does not mean you're going to enlist into the military. In fact, most members of JROTC never join the armed forces. Whether members are learning to lead by directing drills or learning excellent citizenship skills by volunteering at community events, every member will benefit his or her society for many years to come.

Best Part of JROTC?

I believe the best part of JROTC is getting the opportunity to lead others.
~ Eli Parr

The best part of JROTC, is definitely getting the ability to make new friends.
~ Adan Campos

Thinking about JROTC, the best part in my mind is the camaraderie all the way.
~ Noah Duncan

CHS Tech Crew

Griffin McCravy and Mason Phelps

The CHS tech crew works diligently behind the scenes to help things run smoothly. From setting up the sound and lights for assemblies to creating the atmosphere needed for musicals, they are responsible for the use and maintenance of the auditorium and its equipment. You might not see these guys in class often, but it's because they are working hard to make it all happen.

To the Class of 2015,

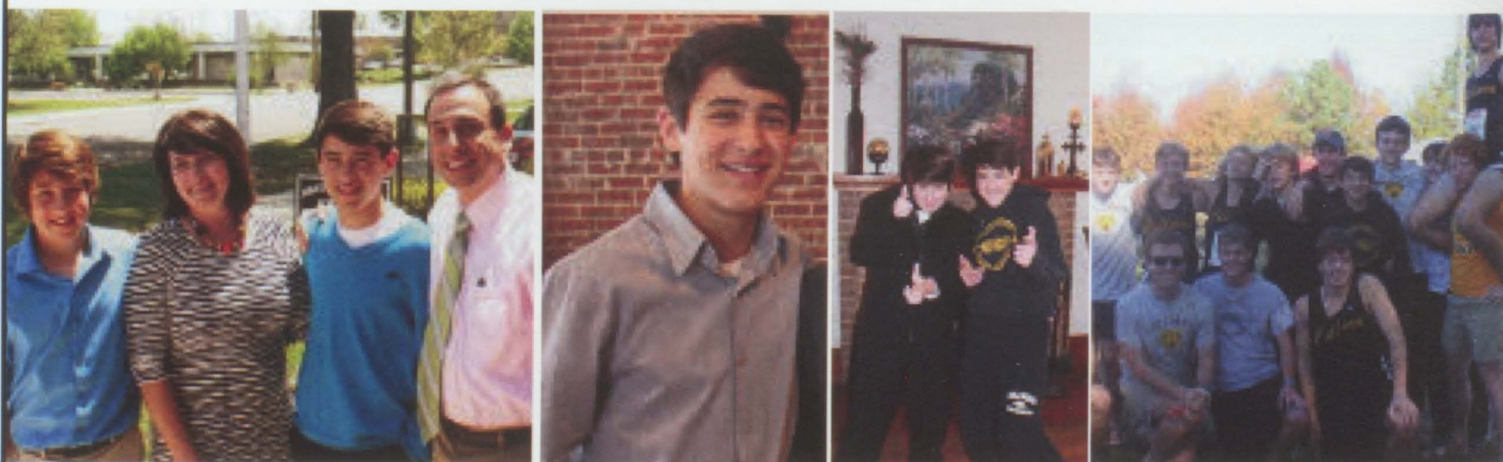

This year was certainly supposed to look differently. When a parent dreams about their child's future, they wait with anticipation to see how it will all unfold. Nicholas' life did not turn out how we expected. We did not get to see him achieve many of the goals he set out to pursue. We feel cheated and angry and confused. Because it makes no sense. Well, it makes no earthly sense. We wrestle with many conflicting emotions. Our faith is strong. God grew us and prepared us for such a time as this. To God be the glory. But that does not make the pain any less intense. You think you cannot live with such chronic pain, but we found out you can. And we do. Even if we do not want to. We keep on keepin' on.

So we did not get to see Nicholas win state championships or go to prom or even graduate. But what do we have instead? We have the hope of seeing him again and being with him for all eternity. Because he trusted in Jesus Christ as his Lord and savior and so do we, we have the Great Hope of Eternal Life. This is what we cling to and how we can cope on dark days. We cannot stay angry at physical death when we are so thankful for Eternal Life.

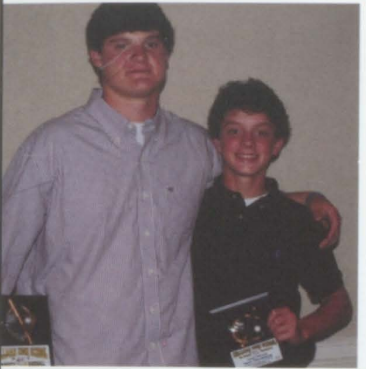

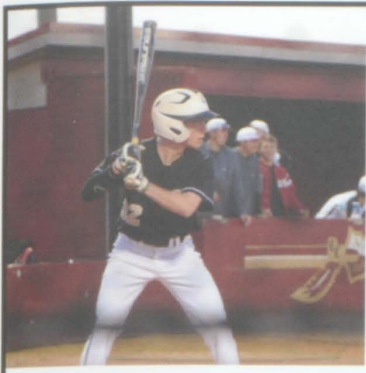

We still struggle with why he couldn't be here for us to lovingly support him to accomplish all the things he set out to do and then die at a ripe old age. That is how it is supposed to work. No parent wants to bury their child. It doesn't seem like the right order. But because of our profound belief in God's Sovereignty, we know that if Nicholas was supposed to be here, he would be. God has a reason that we do not understand. Yet, we are able to trust that Nicholas' death will do more to advance God's Kingdom than the rest of his life would have. This is thinking with an eternal perspective not an earthly one. It is not easy.

So class of 2015, we invite you to join us in this mindset. Think eternally not earthly. Do everything in life with eternal significance. It takes courage to live this way. Because the here and now is right in front of us and eternity seems so far off. But life on earth is a vapor in comparison to Forever. We have seen such growth in you and know that God has already used Nicholas's life and death to impact you. You have come together and shown real love for one another, living with Passion and Purpose. We know that it will continue to impact you for the rest of your lives. Our prayers are forever with you. We love you and will never forget you.

The Last Note

To My Fellow Classmates,

What a year it's been. We started out this year in "A" and "B" Buildings and trailers, and now we are in our prized new facilities. The move was rough on everyone, including the Southerner staff. If someone had told me last summer that (due to packing and moving) the yearbook would be put together in just three months, I would have told them they were crazy. I can not express how proud I am of this year's staff for putting up with the move and still making their deadlines. From cover to cover, this yearbook was a struggle to put together, but I couldn't be happier about how it turned out. Through all my four years of high school I have to say that if I have ever felt accomplished about anything, this yearbook would be my answer. To the class of 2015, we made it! To the classes of 2016 and 2017, I pass the baton to you as you continue with your journey into adulthood and wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors. To the class of 2018, congratulations for making it through your first year in high school! It's only up from here, my friends. I hope you all enjoyed this year's yearbook as much as I enjoyed editing it, and I hope you enjoy this new campus through the next steps of your life's journey. Here's to a year to remember and a school that is "Built to Last."

Sincerely,
Harley Stickeney
Yearbook Co-Editor

While this yearbook records the end of an annual era, the Southerner staff hopes that it also allows this school year to live on and not be forgotten. Ten months ago we started this (what seemed like a long) year in "A" and "B" buildings. Ten months later we finish this (what now feels like a short) year in what we've come to know as "the new building." As you flip back through the pages of this book we hope that you recall and reminisce about all the excitement and success you...we...have experienced. From being the first to walk the new halls of Cullman High School, to breaking records, winning titles and making history, I think we can all agree it's been a monumental year. As we continue on into our various futures, our hope is that we are able to use the memories and moments documented in this yearbook to remind us what it is about our school and our student body that makes us "Built to Last" as we leave our own legacy.

Fondly,
Libby Burroughs
Yearbook Co-Editor
