Dedication

Throughout the four years you have been here, Fairview has steadily increased its student enrollment. Along with the new and expanding student body came many problems--some small and some not so small. But you were there, Mrs. Smith, when everyone needed your help most. You have given up much of your time and devoted it to the building of a good FHA, creating a closely-related student body, and the making of young adults. You have been fellow worker, teacher, adviser, and friend to all of us.

Because of these outstanding qualities you possess, we proudly and respectfully present to you, Jessie Sue Smith, the 1966 Fairala.

Principal's Message

Public schools are maintained in modern times to assure continued improvement of society.

Schools provide more opportunities than ever before. Today education is a means of making available to mankind the highest standard of living ever known.

Progress in modern times is impossible without education.

To you who go your separate ways, our hope is that you will strive to become more nearly the "finished product" by continuing your education with minds alert, and hearts open to receive all that is new and profitable to you.

Administration

Like many of the students, the faculty has a background reaching beyond the two great seas. Their school records can be traced from Massachusetts to Mexico City. On the Golden Spread they meet, teacher and students, with one advantage: although there are many fine teachers throughout the country, where else does there exist a close friendship between two distinct classes? Close contact between individuals produces a special unity, making it easier to transform ideas, establish logical thinking methods, and arrive at sound conclusions and opinions. This unity is great; nonetheless, new faces blend swiftly with old, and together they make up a staff as good as, or better than the best.

Features

Primarily, of course, FHS is people. Some of us are beautiful beyond the ordinary; some are capable of generating a contagious excitement and loyalty; some are more scholarly, some more athletic, some more likeable than others. A very few have all these qualities to an extraordinary degree. These are our chosen few whom we honor each year in a special way.

As we analyze the superior person, however, we rediscover an ancient Oriental truth, the truly superior person humbly exalts others. Rarely do we find smugness and conceit among the great ones of any era; rather, they value and reassure us of our own worth, and so we are glad to choose them for honor.

Further to be completely honest about the people of importance on FHS campus, we have found ourselves in the basically democratic position of admitting each of us is superior in some way, each is vital to the student body. Thus, we give you the Very Important People in Fairview High School...

Ad sales, annual sales, ledger management, and the handling of general finances of the '66 FAIRALA are the concern of the Business Manager.

After twelve long years of laughter... labor ... studying ... projects ... ballgames... competition ... formals ... club meetings ... friendships and knowledge we stand ready to step forth into the world ... an adult. Now the question confronts us "Am I really prepared to go where I want to go and do what I want to do?" The answer is an emphatic "yes" from a very capable faculty and principal.

We have been tutored, probed, aided in every way... Now it is time for us to "leap from the nest to fly."

What does the future hold for me? Can I now build a successful life? We wonderingly ask ourselves these questions as we receive our diplomas. Only the future and God holds the answer to these questions. But wherever we go, whatever we do... we are sure that being a graduate of Fairview High School will be a definite asset to us.

Underclassmen

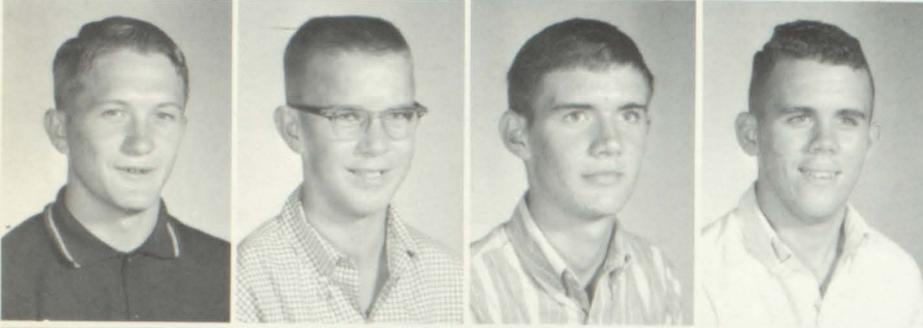

Underclassmen ... many books ... real freindships ... lockers ... the pain of maturing ... the joy of belonging ... the newness felt by 7th graders as they approach the long-awaited transition from a child to a teenager ... the anticipation of 5th graders looking forward to being freshmen ... the enthusiasm of freshmen while feeling "grown-ups" ... the vitality of sophomores ... the thrill of juniors ... knowing that there's just one more year to seniorship ...

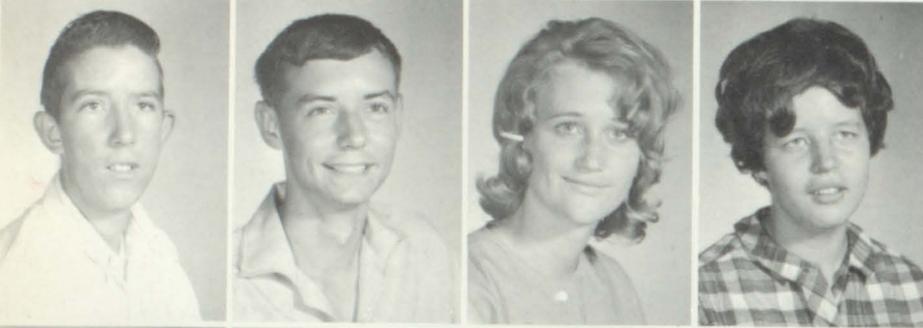

All these are the hopes and dreams of underclassmen becoming a reality daily in the "fun-filled" spirit of FAIRVIEW HIGH.

Elementary

Elementary ... a word with a wonderful meaning ... wonderful because it means not only pigtails ... growing pains ... being laughed at ... but honor rolls ... projects ... classes ... friends ... good times ... harvest carnival ... student council ... the life of being young ... the alertness of being openminded ... the littleness waiting to be big ... the patience in knowing that this is the most important time of your life ... the most important foundation.

Work and Play at School

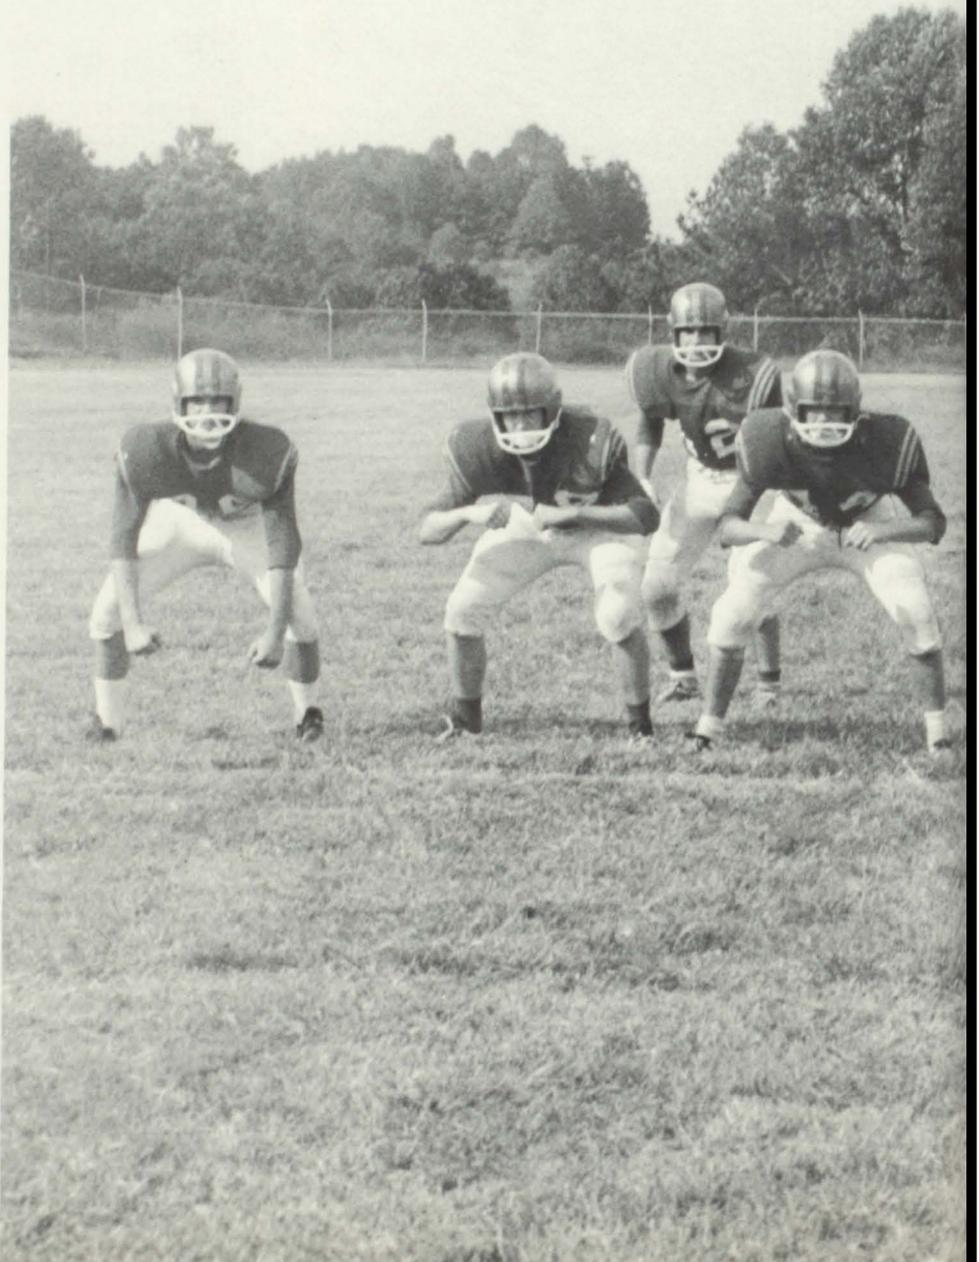

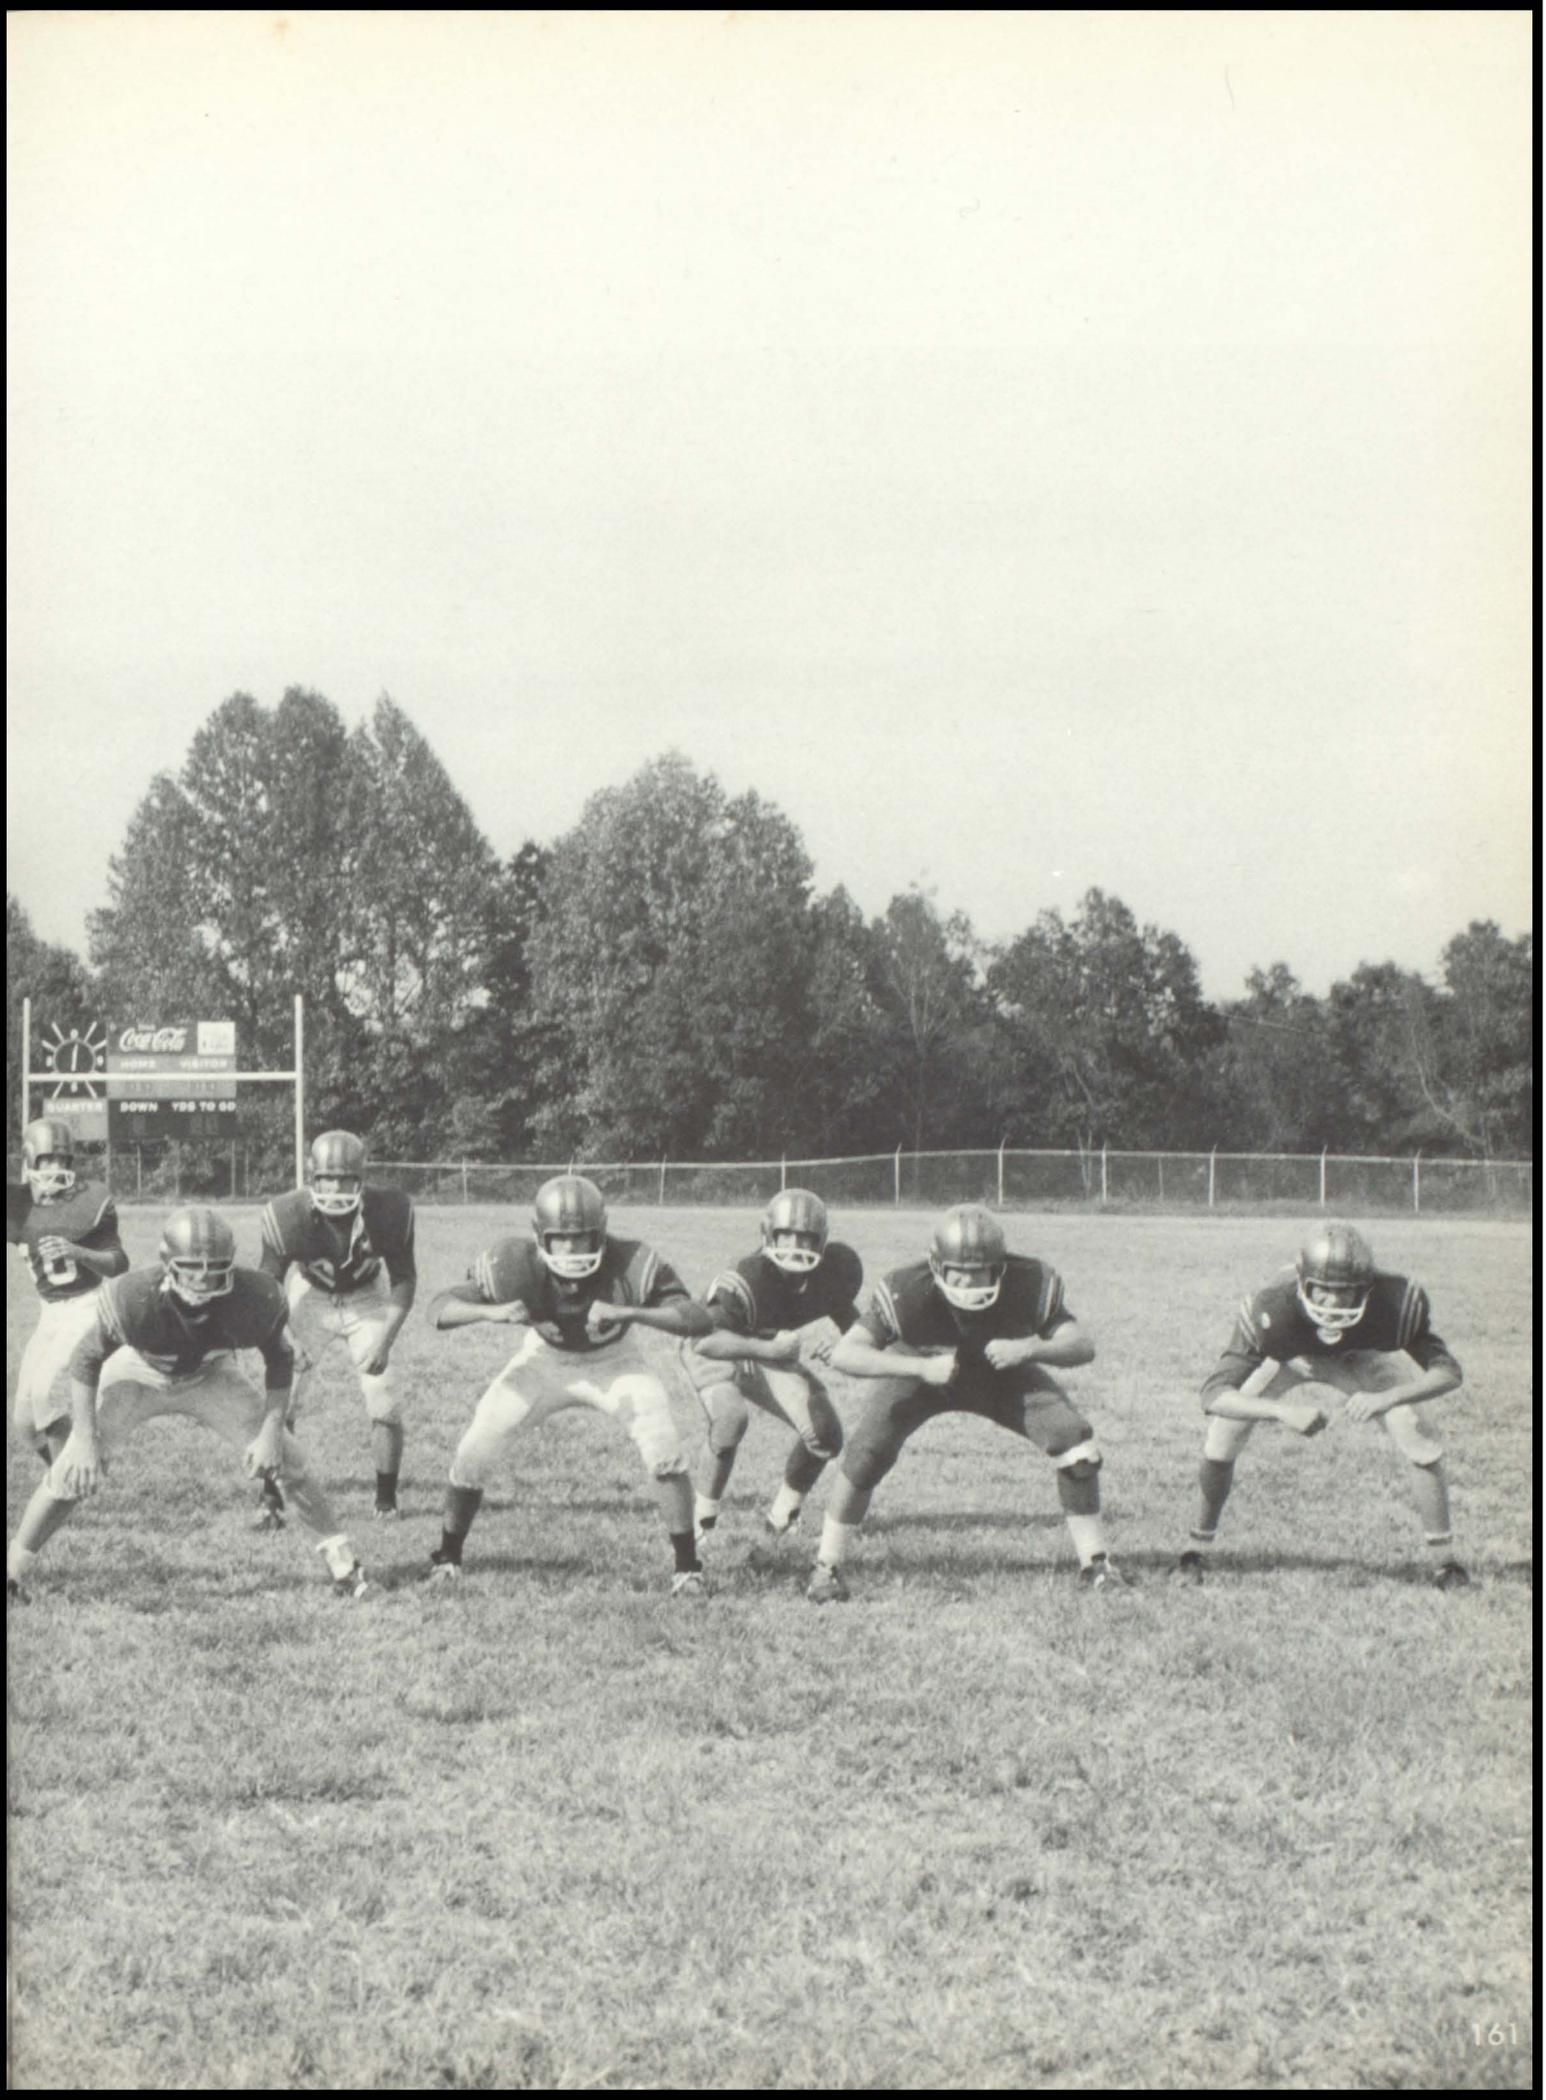

Sports

The 1965-66 football season will not be soon forgotten by the fans, students and certainly not by the players.

At the pep rally before the final game with Holly Pond; coach Dwight Tucker stated, "I've never worked with a finer group of boys."

Coach Joe Shults, head basketball coach, started his team on the road to a victorious season by winning their first game over Ryan. Since then the team has chalked up a 5-1 record in regular season play with less than half the season completed.

The Aggies finished the season with a victory over their arch rival Holly Pond. A pass from Merritt to Collins started the scoring. Drake kicked the point that won the game as it turned out. Ronald Burleson scored for Holly Pond in the fourth. Steve Hulsey charged through to block the point that would have tied the game. Final score: Fairview - 7; Holly Pond - 6.

The Aggies downed Pisgah for the first time in two years to the surprise of all the fans. Jerry Merritt started the scoring in fine fashion by a 68 yard run on a punt return. Bailey came up with the next score on a pass from Merritt. It was late in the fourth before Pisgah managed to score. Final score: Fairview - 14 and Pisgah - 7.
